

Project update

In this project newsletter, we share an update on recent news, events, information resources and the development of a Community Benefits Sharing Framework.

Developing the Community Benefits Sharing Framework

The inaugural meeting to develop a Community Benefits Sharing Framework (previously referred to as the Community Investment Program) took place with the new Advisory Group on Thursday 6 June 2024.

Representatives from the local community, industry and government came together to begin co-designing a framework through which MGH can ensure fit-for-purpose investment in the community, if the project goes ahead.

To find out more about the Framework and how it will work, visit our website.

Online industry briefing webinar

Thank you to everyone who joined Shohan Seneviratne, our CEO, at our first Industry Briefing and online webinar.

Over 200 business and industry representatives joined us online to hear about the project's three main phases (development, construction, and operations/maintenance) as well as the typical jobs expected during each phase. Shohan then provided an overview of the contracting strategy, main work packages expectation and some examples of local supply opportunities.

If you missed the webinar but would like to register interest in receiving industry updates on the project or are interested in future opportunities, make sure to register through our ICN Gateway database by clicking on the link below.

Supporting the local community - Kalbarri Lights Up Festival

The annual Lights Up Festival took place in Kalbarri during the long weekend of 1st – 2nd June 2024.

Thank you to the Kalbarri Development Association for facilitating the MGH project's support of this fantastic event.

New webinars

The MGH team will be running a series of informational webinars in the coming months. Each webinar will be presented by a subject matter expert and dive into various aspects of the project.

We will be advertising webinar times, dates and topics soon through these email updates and on our website.
